

To the FCC:

I am outraged by Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the November election. It would be positive and constructive if they were planning to broadcast documentaries of varying viewpoints. They could, for example, also air "Going Upriver," another new documentary about John Kerry's Vietnam service, if they wanted to air the anti-Kerry piece called "Stolen Honor." To broadcast only the one that is anti-Kerry seems to me quite clearly biased and deeply irresponsible.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. I urge you to question and revoke the license of any broadcaster that acts in such an irresponsible manner in the middle of an important national election.
